CHICAGOANS VISIT COLO. WING

Sr. Escorts Needed

NEWS FROM THE SQUADRONS

Members of Denver Senior Squadron took time out on January 22 for fun in the snow. With Kenosha Pass the destination and ski-dooing the object, lunches, hot coffee, warm clothing, the family and friends were loaded in the jeeps, scouts and other vehicles, and the fun began. A stop for coffee and gossip was made on the way, of course. The only casualties incurred were a few sunburned necks.

Cadets from the Longmont Comp. Sqdn. held a bake sale recently at the Public Service Building in Longmont. Proceeds earned from the sale will be used to help purchase such things as crayons, pencils and paper for a school for Vietnamese children. The school is being built by the Marines of the B Company, 7th Engineers Battalion.

Program Set For Colo Wing Conference In Glenwood Springs On May 20-21

The 1967 Annual Colorado Wing Conference will be held at the Village Inn Motel, Glenwood Springs, 20-21 May, 1967. An informative program has been planned to furnish policies and planning for the future growth of the Civil Air Patrol within the State of Colorado. This meeting is considered vital to all persons interested in the Colorado CAP program.

Glenwood Springs has been chosen for its central location in addition to the many other attractions that have made it a major vacation area.

The agenda is as follows:

Saturday, May 20

- 0730-0830 Registration
- 0830-1100 General Meeting
(Conducted by Col. Putz)
- 1100-1300 Lunch (For Registered CAP members only)
- 1300-1600 Individual Staff Section Meetings and Commanders' Meeting
- 1700-1900 Happy Hour
- 1900- ? FREE TIME (You're on your own)

NEW CO'S NAMED

2/Lt. Harry F. Landon is the new Commander of East Jeffco Composite Squadron, effective 4 February 1967.

Maj. Paul Z. Malott was appointed Commander of San Juan Squadron effective 7 February.

Sunday, May 21

0900- Meetings to be held as required. Schedule will be announced by staff section heads on Saturday

In order to alleviate delays in registration at the hotel, personnel within the Denver Area have been asked to register, IN PERSON (NOT BY PHONE OR MAIL), with Donna Curnes at Wing Headquarters as soon as possible. This is for CAP members wishing to attend the meeting and DOES NOT include hotel arrangements.

PUERTO RICO PROVES EXCITING FOR COLORADO WING PERSONNEL

A good time was had by all of the six Colorado Wing CAP members who recently returned from a scrumptious trip to San Juan, Puerto Rico, site of the latest CAP National Executive Committee Meeting.

Leaving Cool Colorful Colorado with its 60° temperature, most of us did a military version of the Air Strip (or at least we wished we could) by the time we reached Muggy Magnificent Miami, with its 80+ degrees. Fortunately, it was cooler at night, so none of us suffered too much.

The reception we received upon arrival at the Isla Grande Airport in San Juan will be long remembered, by the undersigned, at least. Col. Clara E. Livingston, the Puerto Rico Wing Commander, had her sharp cadet drill teams performing in impressive style, a youthful band playing exciting Latin music on the caved-in oil drums, and (how thoughtful can you get?) a refreshment booth to cool us off before we motored on to the San Juan Darlington Hotel.

Space does not permit too many details at this time; however, any of the following can probably be persuaded to discuss the trip and perhaps show a few pictures to interested parties: Col. Arthur F. Putz, Lt. Col. Nathan Baum, Lt. Col. Seymour Beitscher, Maj. Marion Tankersley, S/M Lloyd R. Hashman, S/M Donna Curnes, and the undersigned, Maj. Gerrie Tolbertson. Incidentally, the official delegate, Col. Donald Hale, Rocky Mountain Region Commander, also made the trip, as did Lt. Col. Sara Adams of Rocky Mountain Region Staff.

Cadet Major Jerry D. Fountain's name is currently being considered by National Headquarters for selection as an alternate in the International Air Cadet Exchange (IACE) Program.

Colorado Wing recently took on charge its newest aircraft, a radio-equipped Cessna 182 Skylane. Above, Lt. Col. Seymour Beitscher sets CAP emblem on the tail of the plane, N26760.

Safety First!

ATTITUDE FLYING!

Modern professional flight training experts have been stressing techniques in recent years to develop keen proficiency in Attitude Flying. They teach us that keeping the aircraft properly positioned with respect to the earth and surrounding air will surely produce accurately controlled flights and smooth landings.

May we borrow their term "Attitude Flying" and extend it to include a different facet of safety, one that is perhaps even more meaningful? The "Pilot Attitude" can generate strong tendencies toward either safe flying or toward sloppy performance.

Pilots, check yourselves secretly, and honestly evaluate your own Attitude Flying. Do you...

Delight in breaking some rules?...Feel that "it can't happen to me"?...Attempt VFR flights in marginal weather?...Ignore gusty surface winds?...Trust equipment not well maintained?...Scorn that extra hour of dual?...Taxi fast, especially downwind?...Think checklists are for beginners?...etc., etc.

If you scored one or more "affirmatives" on the above, we hope you will quickly decide your "Attitude" should be changed. Remember, the Pilot Attitude makes for either Happy Landings or Accident Reports! Take your choice!
